7. Regimental Birthday: Alf Arnold pointed out that the nearest Friday to the 25th August 1993 will be the 3rd September.
Decisions on what members would like to do will have to be sorted out a little nearer the date.
8. Festival of Remembrance: John Bevan explained that when he attended the last Festival meeting someone suggested that the number of Regimental Marches played should be reduced. A member of the committee had stood counting the number standing as each march was played last year and it was brought to everyones attention that only seven stood up to our march. It would be a pity that if after all the trouble taken over the last four years to get our March played we had it removed from the list. Remember we have our allocation of 15 tickets and it would be great to see them all taken.

Tickets will be brought to the next meeting which is on the Friday before the Festival, cost £3.00 each.
